 Good afternoon parents, teachers and students my name is Aeeshat and I am focusing on a first nations hero. The first nation's hero I have chosen is Susan Aglukark. Susan was born January 27th 1967. Susan is a musician that has accomplished many goals. She has won many Juno awards.

I will be talking about some values she has demonstrated. The first value Susan has demonstrated is responsibility. Susan showed responsibility because she was able to start a music career on her own with a little help along the way. This shows she is responsible because she was able to build a music career. This is why she showed responsibility.

The second value Susan demonstrated is respect. She showed respect when she won 3 Juno Awards. She showed respect to people too. This a very important trait to have. I think Susan should show the same respect to Susan like how Susan showed respect to them.

The third value I will be talking about is honesty. Susan demonstrated honesty because she had honesty in her lyrics and the words said. Also because she was honest to people and her fans. She is also very honest they way she acts. This is why Susan is Honest.

The fourth value Susan demonstrated is inclusion. Susan showed inclusion because she included people in the Artic Rose song. Also when she was in school she was inclusive when she worked in groups. She is inclusive and that is very important trait to have.

The most important trait is caring. Susan demonstrates caring because she was kind to others. She was caring to her children too. Being caring in my opinion is the most important trait to have.

Some fun facts about Susan are...

She has three children Cameron Joseph and Allyaq. The school she went to was Sir Jhon Franklin high school. She has released 7 albums. In conclusion this is why Susan is a first nations hero.
