

Susan Alukgark

Susan Alukgark is a female who was born on January 27, 1967. She is still alive and she is currently 51 years old. She is a singer who has won many awards.

This a timeline of Susan Aglukark's important awards in her life.

She was born on January 27th, 1967.

1. In 1992 she started singing
2. In 1995, she was the winner for her song "Artic Rose".
3. In 1996 she won for two albums some of the songs were about first nations and her family
4. In 2001 she won a Juno Award for "Unsung Hero's"
5. In 2004 she was a winner for Juno Award for aboriginal recording
6. In 2004 she was appointed officer of the order of Canada
7. In 2008 she was appointed as distinguished scholar I residence at the university of Alberta
8. In 2016 she was governor generals performing ants awards
9. 2018 she is still alive

Here are some links

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Susan_Aglukark

<http://www.susanaglukark.com/bio/>

Here is my option on the traits she portrays

People talk about heroes. People admire all sorts of traits. However, what are the qualities of a real hero? What are the qualities of someone who does actually does well in this world? In my mind, there are three main ones: Honesty, Inclusion and caring. And, to my mind Susan Alukgark is a person who portrays all these qualities

Honesty is the first quality that is shown by Susan. I know Susan because I listen to her music and have heard it. She portrays this trait by the emotional depth and honesty of her music held a deep place in many people's hearts. When I listened to the song called "Unsung Hero's" I loved it. People love her music a lot.

Her second quality is inclusion, the reason I chose inclusion because in every song she always adds a bit of her family. She always is a very inclusive person for everything, I love that about her. Her music to me sounds nice, but to other people may sound bad, odd or weird.

The last quality she has is how caring she is. I think this is an important one. Well you might be thinking what an example of a time she was caring is. Well there have been many times where she has won awards but has never bragged about it. In my opinion she is a very caring person because it would be so hard to win so many awards and not brag about it.

In conclusion I think Susan Alukgark in a Hughes hero and a role model. She portrays amazing traits and is an amazing singer. I hope that you have learned a thing or two about her and how she is my rolemodel.