People talk about heroes. People admire all sorts of traits. But what are the qualities of a real hero? What are the qualities of someone who actually does good in this world? In my mind, there are three main ones: caring, respect and honesty. I believe Jordin TooToo is a person who portrays all these qualities.

Caring is the first quality that is shown by Jordin Tootoo. He has a Twitter and Facebook page just for his fans. He cares a lot about his fans. The Jordin Tootoo fund has given money to charitable organizations. He is helping people who are at risk. Mostly children. He is a caring person because he's done all those good things.

Respect is another quality of Jordin Tootoo. He plays hockey and dedicates each game to his territory Nunavut. This shows respect because he is honoring where he is from. Jordin Tootoo is also respectful to his fans. Some people aren't nice to their fans but Jordin Tootoo is very nice to his fans. He listens to them and talks to them. This makes his fans feel happy and good about themselves. Jordin Tootoo is a respectful person.

The most important quality Jordin has is honesty. This is a very important one because he was an alcoholic in the NHL and he wrote a book (All The Way- By Jordin Tootoo) explaining it. People like honest people. People know he is truthful and he is confident. This makes him a Hugh's hero, someone I can look up to.

Jordin TooToo is caring to his fans and people who look up to him, he is a respectful person and he is honest. You should look up to Jordin Tootoo because he has all those qualities for all those reasons. He is a good person to look up to because he is a Hugh's Hero.
