

Being a good American citizen means knowing how the government works and participating in ways that make the country a better place. Knowing whom you can go to for help is a good thing for citizens to know, also. Being a good school citizen is very similar. Here are some guidelines for effective citizenship at WJHS.

- Wells Junior High School is for grades 5, 6, _____ and _____. Our “Code of Conduct” is based on five core values: R _____, R _____, H _____, T _____, and C _____.
- Our school colors are _____. And our mascot is The _____.
- To let students and parents know about school progress, there is a website with an online grade book called _____. After twelve weeks of learning, a _____ card is sent home with a trimester grade. At that point, the slate is wiped clean and a new _____ starts.
- Daily assignments in every class are written on the _____ in the classrooms and in the _____, told to students verbally, and displayed on Google Classroom or a teacher’s online _____.
- If a student gets home and has forgotten what assignments need to be done, has forgotten a needed paper at school, or doesn’t understand the work to be done, there are several ways to still get the assignment completed:

One, s/he might _____ a friend. Copying the questions onto another piece of paper as the friend reads them over the phone is a good idea if the student has forgotten a worksheet.

Two, students could check the _____ App, which hopefully s/he has signed up to receive either on a _____ or by _____.

Three, s/he could ask an _____ for help re-reading directions when not sure what to do.

Four, some teachers have a _____ or Google _____ to check for homework assignments and even for access to worksheets that can be printed at home.

Trying every possible solution to getting work done is better than coming without the work done. If students have sincerely tried to contact others for help and still cannot complete the work, a note from _____ is helpful for the teacher to be able to know of the effort put forth.
