Math

This week we have been learning about multiplication comparisons. The kids used equations, arrays, and bar models to represent different multiplication problems. We will continue this into next week. The kids have also been working on their basic facts each day. Please continue to work on those facts at home for the math log. I'm looking forward to conferences next month and to update you on their progress in math.

Science

The kids had a great time learning about energy this week. They investigated dropping a tennis ball down a ramp. We will be backing off science for a little bit. I want to focus in the short term on government in social studies. We have a big election coming up so it seems fitting.

Language Arts

Our unit 2 Empires of the Middle Ages continued this week. The kids learned about the life of monks and nuns. We also discussed The Battle of Hastings 1066 and how it was a turning point in the middle ages. Our journey through the middle ages will continue next week. The kids will have a spelling test on Monday and their log is due. Our vocabulary packet will be due on Thursday. The kids will be writing a persuasive piece on either the life of a lord, serf, monk, nun, or knight. Our grammar journey took us into adjectives and adverbs this week. Finally, we looked at different prefixes and how they change the meaning of words.

Social Studies

The kids learned the different levels of government and the actions and responsibilities of citizens. They received a study guide Thursday for our government quiz. Our government quiz will be on Monday, November 2nd. The kids will have a whole week to study and prepare.
