Math

Our whole numbers unit continues next week. We focused on rounding this week. The kids took a rounding quiz today and played a rounding game to review the concept. Next week, we will focus on adding larger numbers. Be looking for homework on a couple of nights next week. Please keep working on those math logs. Basic facts are so crucial in their mathematical development. Please keep pushing those facts at home.

Language Arts

Our CKLA unit on Personal Narratives continues to go well. The kids focused on character traits while reading. We started our main story in unit 1. It's a story about a young girl and her battle to overcome Polio. In addition, the kids have started to write their own personal narrative on their topic of choice. We have been really focusing on using strong sensory words in our writing. I'm looking forward to reading their narratives in the days and weeks to come. Please make sure those reading logs are getting turned in. We will have our spelling test on Monday and our vocabulary packet due on Thursday.

Science

Our energy unit has begun!!! The kids investigated energy stations last week. This week we began to investigate motion energy. They are working in teams to experiment with dropping both tennis and basketballs from a certain height and examining the results.

Social Studies

We will be kicking off the year with our government unit. It's only fitting we do that seeing how it's an election year. The kids will be learning about the branches of government, laws, taxes, and the responsibilities of local, state, and national government.
