

AP Psychology in a Covid19 World Introduction to Our Online Experience

Welcome Back Everybody,

The first order of business is to make sure that everyone here can access the various online platforms and resources we will be utilizing over the next month or so. Below are the “programs” you will be using to remain in contact with me and to access and submit your work. Included are the instructions for how to access or sign up for these platforms.

Email The simplest method of communication. Anytime. lance.bergman@sarasotacountyschools.net

Phone (Google Voice) I am available to speak or text Monday-Friday from 8:00-9:00AM. These are my “Office Hours.” Feel free to leave a text message anytime or if I do not pick up. PH# (321) 701-4244.

EducatorPages This is our existing class website. It will continue to be used as a repository for posted assignments and resources. Copies of assignments will appear under the category AP ASSIGNMENTS – April 2020. If it’s been awhile here are instructions for accessing it:

Go to the Pine View School Website → Overview → Pine View Teacher Websites → Bergman, Lance (or simply, <http://lbergman.educatorpages.com/>).

College Board/AP Classroom ALL of what we do over the next month will be review. You will watch sessions offered by AP Classroom and complete brief review activities. Please sign into your existing College Board/AP Classroom account <https://www.collegeboard.org/>. If you have difficulty doing so please email me asap as lessons will begin on Monday 4/6.

Google Classroom This is the space where assignments will appear and be submitted once completed. As mentioned, copies of assignments will also be on our educatorpages website. Please create a Google Classroom account and join your class (there’s already an assignment there 😊). Again, if you have any trouble please email me.

Period 2	Code yyvpt7v
Period 3	Code vdxmbgn

Zoom Zoom will provide the opportunity to meet as a class, face to face (video). While I’m not exactly sure how frequently we’ll use it as yet, you should download the program and create an account <https://zoom.us/>. I will schedule a brief session early next week to answer questions and check in (likely separate sessions for each period) TBD. Instructions for joining a meeting will follow. Stay tuned.

Finally, I am required to be in contact with each of you, each week for attendance purposes. My documentation for this will be the assignments you complete each week. You must not fall behind or you will be considered absent. An employability grade based on completion of work and attendance will be assigned based on timely completion of work and attendance (excused absences excepted).
