

AP Psychology Week of April 13th

Zoom

It was nice to visit with most of you last Wednesday (Zoom). For those unable to attend we discussed the revised AP exam and your preparation for it. The consensus was that more frequent, but brief face-to-face communication via Zoom would be helpful and reassuring. I have selected times we ordinarily meet, twice a week to start (Monday and Wednesday until further notice). You may attend either. Meeting URLs appear on our Google Classroom and educatorpages website.

Period 2	8:30-9:00AM	Meeting ID# 996-0345-1121	Password 810690
Period 3	9:30-10:00AM	Meeting ID# 953-2374-0900	Password 406582

It is my intention to check-in, clarify any questions you have regarding assignments, and share ideas and resources as you continue to prepare for our Mock exam (TBD) and the AP examination on May 19th.

AP Review Resources

There are tons of review resources out there. Just remember they are geared toward the full exams administered in the past. That said these resources remain relevant, helping you to focus on key concepts and theories we have covered.

While you can disregard multiple choice strategies for the actual exam I strongly encourage attempting multiple choice questions in your review. These help you to identify and recall important concepts that will appear on the FRQ questions.

Review books are an awesome resource; Princeton, Barron's, 5 Steps to a Five. You can order through Amazon or other book vendors. There are lightly used and even new books for sale on Ebay (formerly half.com). They're ridiculously cheap. Follow this link:

Critical Terms and Concepts

Here's a PDF of critical terms, concepts, experiments that I give out each year. I've edited out all material from the last three chapters. Remember in most cases here you will need to understand and apply these concepts using real-life examples. There will be upcoming assignments/FRQs related to this list: <file:///C:/Users/a047790/Desktop/AP%20Review%202020.pdf>

AP Classroom

View and complete FRQs as assigned (below). Again, there will be an add/dropbox for submission on Google Classroom. Please remember that assignment completion is evidence of weekly participation.

Do you have a dedicated time for AP Psychology review (again other than what we do “in class”)? What units do you think you need review most? Upload one paragraph to Google Classroom along with the two FRQs assigned this week.

Wednesday, April 15th

Zoom - Check-in and answer questions. Mini-review for week.

Period 2	8:30-9:00AM	Meeting ID# 996-0345-1121	Password 810690
Period 3	9:30-10:00AM	Meeting ID# 953-2374-0900	Password 406582

AP Classroom Video assignments (4/15-17). Your assignment is to watch, take notes as you wish, and answer the FRQs at the end of each module. <https://www.youtube.com/user/advancedplacement>

- AP Online Review 8.2 Again while this year's AP exam does not explicitly cover material from units 8 & 9 this lesson offers a review of the major perspectives and how to approach AP Psych Free Response Questions. Please watch it in its entirety and answer the FRQ at the end (47:15)
- AP Online Review 8.3 Watch and attempt the FRQ at the end of the video. The content from 9 minutes on focuses on specific disorders including autism spectrum and schizophrenia. While you may not need to know the specific etiology of the disorders, there is much overlap (32:49)

Thursday, April 16th

Continue work on AP Online Review 8.2 and 8.3.

Friday, April 17th

Upload your AP Review Plan and your two FRQ attempts (AP Online Review 8.2 and 8.3) to Google Classroom. These assignments are evidence of your weekly participation and attendance.
