Course Description

Welcome to Drama! Our focus this school year will be learning and developing our skills as critical thinkers, readers, writers, speakers, and listeners. The development and mastery of these important skills are not only important to achieving success in a drama classroom, it is a critical component of achieving success in other school subjects, building strong relationships with others, and attaining a flourishing career as an adult. Essentially, I want to teach you how to connect, create, collaborate, and communicate effectively in this crazy world we live in!

What are the consequences if I follow the class rules?

Your appropriate behavior in class assures everyone of an environment conducive to learning. Some possible rewards for continuous appropriate behavior are: intrinsic value (satisfaction of learning), improved skills, verbal praise, positive note to parents, tangible trinkets, and other privileges.

What are the consequences if I don't follow class rules?

1. Warning: I will provide a verbal reminder
 2. Conference: discussion with me to determine how behavior can be changed
 3. Alternative Assignment: may include changing seats, buddy teacher, lunch detention, after school detention, behavior action plan, reflection paper
 4. Contact Parents: a conference with parents will be arranged
 5. Referral to Administration: if the steps above do not correct behavior
- Incorrigible or violent behavior will result in an automatic disciplinary referral and removal from class.

Grade Scale

C = 79% - 70%

D = 69% - 60%

F = 59% and below

Do I have to read outside of class?

The short answer is yes! The better you become at reading, the better you become at drama, whether you are acting, directing, or involved in the technical aspects of theatre. Many of our assignments involve the written word. In addition to reading, you can expect to memorize text as well.

How will I check my grades?

Parents and students are encouraged to check Synergy on a weekly basis to view the most current grades for EVERY class. In addition, I will attempt to return papers in a timely manner as that provides all students with feedback. Students unhappy with a grade may redo an assignment for a better grade at my discretion. Students must discuss this with me prior to redoing an assignment. I will take the grade from both assignments and average them for a final grade.

What do I do if I am absent?

You are responsible for any work missed while you are absent. If there are handouts, you will find them in a folder for you when you return. Any assignment due the day you were absent, MUST BE TURNED IN the day you come back or it will be considered late.

Please see school policy for other information regarding make up work.

What about tardies?

You are expected to be in your seat with required materials ready at the start of the class period and you are expected to begin your bell work without me asking you to begin. You may chat with your friends as much as you want, but when the bell rings, you should be working. Excessive tardies may result in a discipline referral.

What happens if I turn in an assignment late?

If you are running behind on an assignment please discuss it with me. If you discuss it with me, we will likely be able to come up with a solution. If you don't discuss it with me, all I can assume is you are choosing not to do the work and you will receive a zero. If you discuss it with me, I typically accept late work up until the day before grades are due.

Do I have to perform in front of people?

Yes.

Do I have to memorize things?

Yes.

Plagiarism and Academic Integrity

Academic integrity is expected on all assignments. Plagiarism is defined as presenting the work of another as one's own. Cheating on an assignment or assessment is another activity that violates ethics and school rules. Any work that exhibits cheating or plagiarism will result in a zero, personal notification, and disciplinary action may be taken.
